

Police and Crime Plan 2016 - 2020

OFFICE OF THE POLICE & CRIME
COMMISSIONER FOR NORFOLK

The Police and Crime Commissioner for Norfolk

The Police and Crime Commissioner for Norfolk is Lorne Green.

He was elected by the people of Norfolk to:

- Tell the police the main things they should be doing

- Keep a check on the police

- Decide how much money the police can spend on the different things they do

- Pay for help for victims of crime

The priorities

Lorne Green has listened to many different local people to find out the main things they think the police should do. We call these things priorities.

These are the main priorities:

1. People should see that the police are working

- We want more people volunteering in policing
- We want more opportunities for people to talk with the police
- The police should work more closely with young people
- Local people should have a chance to decide what the police are doing
- People should know what the police are doing and not be so afraid of crime

2. More help for the country areas

- We should find new ways to work in the country areas
- People in the country areas should understand more about what the police are doing

- People should feel confident to report crimes in the country areas

3. Improve road safety

We will work with other organisations to:

- Tackle dangerous driving
- Reduce speeding in villages
- Reduce the number of people killed or injured by crashes

4. Stop people from committing crimes again and again

We will:

- Tackle all types of violence and abuse

- Reduce the amount of abuse by family members at home

- Deal with the reasons why people commit crimes again and again

- Increase the support for vulnerable young people

5. Support victims

We will:

- Do more to help victims and witnesses
- Work more with people who are most likely to become victims

A victim is someone who has had a crime committed against them.

- Improve how we work with people with mental illness

- Help to reduce the number of crimes committed by people who take illegal drugs or drink too much

- Make it easier for people to report things to the police

6. An up-to-date police force

We will:

- Help the police to fight crime in the best way possible
- Get better computer systems
- Get better at sharing information

7. Good value for money

We will:

- Make sure that the police force spend their money in the best way possible
- We will look at ways that we can get better value for money by working better with other organisations

Checking the police are doing a good job

The Police and Crime Commissioner is responsible for making sure the police follow these priorities.

Lorne Green will have regular meetings with the Chief Constable and ask for reports on the work they are doing.

Members of the public can come to some of these meetings like the Police Accountability Forum.
