

Top 10 Behaviours

Strong Work Ethic

Employers want people who will work hard and efficiently. Busy and productive people. Stick at tasks, solve problems and get the job done. Don't waste time.

Dependable and Responsible

Essential you arrive on time and are reliable. Most employers will scrutinise absenteeism. Take responsibility for your own actions and behaviours. Get stuck in!

A Positive Can do approach

Employers want employees who have initiative and show motivation, drive and energy to get the job done. Enthusiastic employees can inspire others.

Adaptable and Flexible

There is on-going change in most jobs so you will be adaptable. Being flexible on a shift pattern. Developing your product knowledge

Honest

Employers, colleagues and customers want to know they can trust in what you say and do. To gain trust of customers successfully companies adopt there policy of the customer is always right

Self-motivated

Employers want employees who need little supervision to get the job done in a timely and professional manner. Look to take on extra work when they are not busy

Motivated to grow and learn

In an ever changing work place employers look for employees who keep up with new developments. Willing to learn new skills or a new way of doing something

Self Confidence

Professional working behaviour- being considerate a with colleagues and team working

Being cooperative working well with others. Learn the job and do your best. Dress appropriately- present yourself well. No bullying, appropriate language etc

Loyal

Employers value employees they can trust and who are loyal