Detail of the submission

1. Objective:

- 1.1 The Duty is a key part of the Government's programme of work to collaborate and plan to prevent and reduce serious violence: taking a multi-agency approach to understand the causes and consequences of serious violence, focusing on prevention and early intervention, and informed by evidence.
- 1.2 The Duty requires the specified authorities in Norfolk to collaborate and plan to prevent and reduce serious violence. The specific objective of the SPACE funded youth projects is to deliver youth focused outreach and engagement activity. The project is targeted for 13-15-year-olds with positive activities with the ambition of preventing participation in Youth anti-social behaviour (ASB).
- 1.3 The provision of positive activities for young people in Norfolk also meets the Serious Violence Duty Strategic priorities and delivery plan. It engages the Duty priority age group and addressing serious violence risk factors, namely reduction in ASB, a sense of belonging and community, positive social interactions, opportunities for sport and hobbies, and a safe environment.

2. Background:

Serious violence duty

- 2.1 The Duty has been introduced to facilitate the partnership response to preventing and reducing serious violence.
- 2.2 The Duty requires organisations to develop an evidence base (strategic needs assessment) and create and implement a strategy containing bespoke solutions as to how the local partnership will work together to prevent and reduce serious violence.
- 2.3 The Home Office have allocated funding to meet costs arising from the Duty. The funding is allocated to local policing bodies who can subsequently allocate funding to duty-holders. This includes funding allocated to evidence informed interventions which are aligned to the response strategy.
- 2.4 The public health approach to serious violence means thinking about violence, not only as a problem for the police, but as a preventable consequence of a complex range of factors which influence the likelihood of being affected by violence. It recognises that to effectively tackle violence an approach is needed which does not just focus on those who are already affected by violence but also by addressing the underlying risk factors.

- 2.5 The public health approach involves interventions in three overarching categories, which focus on prevention for different population groups depending on the risk level:
- Primary prevention – aims to stop risk factors from emerging or promotes protective factors.
  - Secondary prevention – aims to address risk factors and stop issues from escalating.
  - Tertiary prevention – aims to manage an ongoing problem and reduce harm.
- 2.6 There is growing body of research exploring why some people or groups are at higher risk of violence while some are protected from it. Although risk and protective factors are not predictive of future behaviour, research has found that reducing risk factors and strengthening protective factors has been found to be effective in preventing violence.
- 2.7 Whilst the approach to using risk and protective factors in predicting outcomes is still developing, they can be utilised to support strategic decision making, planning and allocation of interventions and resources. Considering protective factors, alongside the risks is important in developing approaches which are strength and asset-based.
- 2.8 Our Serious Violence Duty Strategic Needs Assessment identified the following:
- Although the number of young people directly affected by serious youth violence is relatively small, every case has far-reaching implications for the young person, family, friends, peers and communities.
  - National trends indicate that younger people are more likely to be affected by serious violence than older people.
  - Serious violence affecting young people is complex and can be driven by a range of factors.
  - From a public health perspective addressing the factors which increase the risk of children and young people being affected by violence is key to future serious violence prevention and harm reduction.
  - Serious violence is centred around certain areas in Norfolk and when looking at different crimes, locations within the same areas occur repeatedly, suggesting these are key areas for the local response to serious violence to focus upon.
  - The areas identified as being particularly affected by serious violence also have a greater prevalence of serious violence risk factors compared to other areas of Norfolk.

2.9 The Serious Violence Duty Strategy has identified a priority focus on the safety of young people, reducing risk factors and promoting protective factors, for all forms of serious violence and a focus on hotspots/places where the most serious violence occurs, tailoring preventative action to each area based on contextual factors and the local violence profile.

Community Safety Partnership

2.10 Youth ASB is an area the Community Safety Partnership has wanted to influence and in 2023 a partnership funding pot was brought together to enable this.

2.11 The partnership agreed it wanted to provide interventions targeting youth ASB by providing access to positive activities and outreach.

2.12 The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Norfolk (OPCCN) engaged with young people to understand what type of positive activities they wanted to engage in. This engagement highlighted that they were particularly interested in accessing a vast range of sport and arts activities. Crucially, they wanted the activities to be set by the young people themselves.

2.13 Analysis of Norfolk Police data showed that 13-to-15-year-olds were an age group listed as the perpetrator of ASB proportionately more than most other age groups. This finding provided a target age group. partners in this work confirmed this age group required unique engagement needs.

2.14 In collaboration with Norfolk Community Foundation, Norfolk County Council and the Norfolk Youth Advisory Boards, the OPCCN developed a funding opportunity to provide services working with young people with a funding opportunity to provide young people with positive activities.

2.15 The organisations mentioned will all contribute funding to the Norfolk Community Foundation, who will administer the fund. The fund will be offered to members of the Sir Norman Lamb Coalition for Young People. The coalition is made up of Norfolk-based Voluntary, Community, or Social Enterprise organisations working with children and young people to help strengthen their existing services and encourage and promote innovation to enrich our children and young people's lives.

2.16 The criteria states that organisations might be right for this funding if:

- They are a member of the Sir Norman Lamb Coalition for Young People.
- They provide open access youth services, or targeted youth work support, delivered by trusted adults, preferably qualified youth workers/youth support workers or equivalent.
- They have experience of reaching young people who do not readily engage with positive activities.

- They have existing links in their local community – e.g. with police, schools, local councils, family support workers or other community networks – that support them to understand the needs in their area.
- They involve young people’s views in the development of their activities.
- They will be able to feedback on their learnings from this funded piece of work.

2.17 Activity might be right for this funding if:

- They can demonstrate a clear plan to reach young people and increase their engagement with services.
- They already have a successful model for engaging new young people and would like to build capacity in their regular activities that they can connect to.
- Or they would like to build capacity in their detached youth work, or in their model for outreach, to connect new young people to their regular activities.
